Canoeists and Oarsmen of Georgetown Club to Participate in Races Saturday.

Rowing and canoeing enthusiasts will be given a treat on Saturday if they will journey over to the Aqueduct Bridge about 3 in the afternoon.

The Potomac Boat Club is going to hold a club regatta and an elaborate program has been arranged for. All kinds of shell races and canoe races are schedor snell races and canoe races are sched-uled and many hot contests are expected. The Potomac crews have been training hard with a view to getting into per-fect condition for the Middle States re-gatta on Labor Day and a number of heated rivalries have sprung up among members of the different crews, each man claiming the greatest speed for his boat.

The arguments have become so heated between the members of the intermediate eight and those of the junior eight that on several occasions they have threatch several occasions they have threat-ened to bet on their chances of winning the class eight event on Saturday, but so far the betting proposition is only in the threatening stage. The intermediates claim to have the edge on the others and as there is no junior money in sight it is hardly probable that any fortunes will be lost when they meet in the club regatta Saturday afternoon.

Browns Win Both Games From Griffith's Nationals

Bob Groom and Eddie Plank Are in Rare Form. Gettysburg Veteran Almost Chalks Up No-Hit Game—Scores 2 to 0 and 9 to 1.

By SID 8, KEENER.

The Washington Herald's St. Louis Correspondent.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 8 .- The Nationals are ready to admit the Browns to the pennant race. Griffith had a "hunch" that there was a rabbit's foot hanging around St. Louis when Fielder Jones won fourteen straight. But Griff is convinced that seeing is believing, and today the Nationals dropped both ends of a No. 1 was close, 2 to 0, but No. 2 was a massacre. The count was 9 to 1. And with the two victories the Browns moved to within six games

The Red Sox beat the White Sox, and Chicago's lead now is two points. The Nationals, who have been knocking around the pennant door, were politely told to "git," and Griff's percentage now is one game under .500.
